

DATA MODUL presents FineArt Display at the G2E 2025

Munich, 14 August 2025

DATA MODUL will once again be present at this year's Global Gaming Expo (G2E) in Las Vegas. In the run-up to the trade fair, the company will be presenting selected product highlights that can be experienced live at the booth from 6 to 9 October 2025. A special visual experience will kick things off: the new 32" FineArt Display with UHD resolution in portrait format.

The FineArt Display combines state-of-the-art display technology with high-quality product design. Thanks to AUO's proprietary Advanced Reflectionless Technology (A.R.T.), a particularly natural, virtually reflection-free display is achieved – ideal for visual content with the highest level of detail. Colour reproduction is in 10-bit (8-bit + Hi-FRC) and with optimum colour fidelity – for a display that comes amazingly close to original art prints.

With a resolution of 3840 x 2160 pixels and a contrast ratio of 800:1, the display is ideal for artistic installations, for example. The integrated Android player (Android 9.0) with quad-core processor, 32 GB memory and connectivity options such as WiFi and Bluetooth allow flexible content playback around the clock. The intuitive operation and numerous connection options – including HDMI, USB-A, USB-C and LAN – round off the system.

The display supports operation in portrait and landscape format and is designed for 24/7 continuous operation. During the trade fair, DATA MODUL will be showing high-resolution 4K content that demonstrates the potential of the FineArt
